Prizes awarded: Buckendorf, 1st $65 plus trophy; Reynolds, Turner, Monson, Wiles, 2nd-3rd $15 each; Stanke, 1st/B $25; Callinan, 2nd/B $15; Estle, 1st/C $15; G. Turner, 2nd/C $10; Fidone, 1st/Unrated $10; Solomon, 2nd/Unrated, $5; Zumbrunnen, 1st/Junior - Trophy; Martin, 2nd/Junior - Trophy. Only one prize (the highest possible) was awarded to each individual.

The tournament began with three USCF experts and Don Turner and Glen Buckendorf easily made Expert from the tournament results. It was the largest Idaho Open in recent years. Many old friendships were renewed with players from six states (including Nevada for the first time in years) represented.

There were several upsets as evidenced by two unrated, two Class B, and one Class C players finishing in the first 10. There were six juniors playing but some of the top finishers took higher prizes as each player could take only one prize. This policy should be changed as it is too hard to award the prizes, especially with the younger players. Glen Buckendorf is no stranger to the title of Idaho Open Champion and each of the top three finishers is a past winner in this event.
